

Researcher

Public Health

PPMI is a leading European research and policy analysis centre. We help public sector and civil society leaders from around the world, presenting evidence in a way that is simple, clear and ready to use.

COME PREPARED

A successful candidate will have:

- ▼ strong interest in research of policy interventions aimed at harnessing technology and innovation for evidence-based decision making in the field of public health;
- ▼ full English proficiency as well as excellent writing, oral and interpersonal skills;
- ▼ experience in conducting consultation activities, including interviews, surveys and workshops;
- ▼ experience with tools for qualitative and quantitative data analysis;
- ▼ Bachelor's degree (or higher) in a public health-related major and/or several years of policy analysis and applied research would be an advantage.

TAKE ON CHALLENGES

You should be ready to partake in a range of specific and broader research and organisational activities:

- ▼ implementing health policy research: collecting, analysing data and providing data-informed insights;
- ▼ conducting quantitative and qualitative analysis;
- ▼ presenting research findings to colleagues, clients and the public at large;
- ▼ helping our clients and stakeholders of EU-wide interventions to enable the use of technology and innovation for evidence-based decision making for health outcomes and related initiatives;
- ▼ contributing to other studies and evaluations of public interventions, primarily in the fields of public health and research & innovation.

GROW WITH US

You should expect a fast-paced and dynamic environment, where the ability to work in teams and individually go hand-in-hand. In return we offer:

- ▼ competitive salary (starting from 1000 euros net) and eligibility for performance-based bonuses semi-annually;
- ▼ opportunity to work with and learn from renowned experts and established researchers;
- ▼ training and coaching on relevant research methods, analytical and managerial competencies.
- ▼ flexi-time and remote work arrangements;
- ▼ multicultural working environment and an ergonomic office space in the city centre.
